

Research libraries of the future- Resilient libraries for a post-COVID world

Shaghaei, Najmeh

Publication date:
2021

Document version:
Final published version

Citation for polished version (APA):
Shaghaei, N. (2021). Research libraries of the future- Resilient libraries for a post-COVID world. Abstract from IFLA World Library and Information Congress 2021- Online.

Go to publication entry in University of Southern Denmark's Research Portal

Terms of use

This work is brought to you by the University of Southern Denmark.
Unless otherwise specified it has been shared according to the terms for self-archiving.
If no other license is stated, these terms apply:

- You may download this work for personal use only.
- You may not further distribute the material or use it for any profit-making activity or commercial gain
- You may freely distribute the URL identifying this open access version

If you believe that this document breaches copyright please contact us providing details and we will investigate your claim.
Please direct all enquiries to puresupport@bib.sdu.dk

Research Libraries of the Future

Resilient libraries for a post-COVID world

Dr. Najmeh Shaghaei
Head of Campus Library
The University of Southern Denmark

Background

Impact of COVID on the research libraries

Resilience: Open to the changes we see happening around us, open to diversity, innovation and experimentation

Communication & Engagement: Maximize teams and users' contribution and potential

Flexible Work: How to work hybrid, how to communicate openly and regularly, how to adjust training and education of employees

Reflect: What do we need to do now, what do we offer to users, how to offer our services and how to transform our library model

Rethink: How to protect the library infrastructure, how to restore trust among teams, how to adopt strategies and tactics

Strategies & Values: How to realign library ambitions, how to improve innovation and sustainability, how to embrace new technologies

Thanks for attention