CV

Education

- LD's (Lønmodtagernes Dyrtingsfond) education for members and chairmen of boards of directors, 1997.
- Ph.D. (The Contemporary Society with Mixed Economy), Roskilde University, Denmark, 1989.
- M.A. in Public Administration, Roskilde University, Denmark, 1979.

Relevant Professional Experiences

1. 2012 -

Professor in management and organisation at Sociology. From January 2015, head of research group of Sociology. University of Southern Denmark, the Department of Environmental and Business Economics, Esbjerg.

2. 1986 - 2012

Associated Professor, Roskilde University, Denmark.
From October 2008 Associated Professor MSK.

During leaves from Roskilde University I have been manager in different positions.

A. 2002

Temporary director of CVU East, Denmark (University College Eastern Denmark). on a short term contract.

B. 1999 - 2001

Head of the Mayor's Office; Mayor's Department in Aalborg Municipal, Denmark

As part of the job I:

- represented Aalborg Municipality in various committees having the responsibility for the administration of EU Structural Funds promoting regional development.
- had the responsibility to design, fund and implement EU projects within Aalborg Municipality.
- had the responsibility for the lobby-office of North Denmark in Brussels.
- represented Aalborg Municipality in various committees and boards promoting regional development in North Jutland involving all major actors in the region.

C. 1994 - 1998

Director of West Zealand Business Development Centre, West Zealand County.

As director of West Zealand Business Development Centre, the task was to create regional development on the basis of many different projects within business development, export, education, public-private cooperation etc. The projects involved private firms, municipalities, public institutions, interest organizations, educational institutions and other regional actors. Furthermore, I had the responsibility of the administration of EU Structural Funds promoting regional development in West Zealand County.

In addition to the job as director, I was (working) chairman of the board of Zealand Care Ltd., Denmark in the period 1995-1997. Zealand Care was designed and 'born' within West Zealand Business Development Centre with the aim of creating regional development via public-private partnership (PPP). Zealand Care Ltd. did innovate equipments for disabled citizens and did provide disabled citizens in municipalities and regions with equipments. Zealand Care is now part of a major international business concern.

In addition to the job as director of the centre, I was also director of the administration of the EU programmes Phare Baltic Project Facility and Tacis CBC Small Project Facility in the period 1997-1998. As part of this job, I had the responsibility for offices - contact points - in Sweden, Finland, Russia, the Baltic States, Poland, Germany, Bruxelles and Denmark. The programmes' goal was to promote development in the Baltic Region on the basis of 'East-West' cooperation after the break down of the Berlin Wall.
