

Sarah Bøgelund Dokkedahl
Institut for Psykologi
Klinisk Psykologi
Videnscenter for Psykotraumatologi
E-mail: sdokkedahl@health.sdu.dk
Telefon: +4565504975

Teaching portfolio

1. Formal educational training

Starting June 2022, I will be enrolled at the Lecturer Training Program (Universitetspædagogikum) here at SDU, with associate professor Lotte Huniche as my mentor from the Department of Psychology.

2. Administrative tasks relating to education

2019: Co-coordinator of teaching component for B07 – Clinical Psychology (Academic Skills).

2021-2022: Assisting in the coordination of B11: Psychotraumatology (10 ECTS). Including blended learning and ItsLearning. Involved in the organization of the module so that it meets both the theoretical perspective on psychological trauma, as well as applied psychotraumatology in a Danish context. I will be the lead coordinator on B11 in 2023.

2022: Preparation as coordinator for “Academic start of studies” (Faglig Studiestart), including the coordination of instructors for the fall 2022, as part of B01.

Outside the university

2020: Co-coordinator of teaching program for Midwives in the Region of Southern Denmark. EU-funded project focusing on intimate partner violence in pregnancy.

2021: Coordinator of nation-wide teaching program for women’s shelter staff, supported by Offerfonden. Five full days across the five regions in the fall 2021.

3. Experience as a teacher, examiner and supervisor, including allocation of teaching awards, etc.

Teaching within the university:

2018: MCMI – Quota 2 admission for new students – Motivation stand (full day).

2018: Teaching interview techniques – group lessons on B06 - Medical Psychology (3 hours).

2019: Lecture in Eating Disorders on B07 - Clinical Psychology (3 hours)

2019: Writing days – Academic skills, including group assignments and peer-feedback (2 days)

2020: Lecture on Eating Disorders at B07 - Clinical Psychology (3 hours)

2020: Lecture on partner violence at B11 – Psychotraumatology (1 hour).

2021: Lecture in Eating Disorders at B07 - Clinical Psychology (3 hours)

2021: Lecture in partner violence on B11 – Psychotraumatology (1 hour).

2022: Lecture on trauma victims in DK, incl. assignment on B11 – Psychotraumatology (1 hour)

Supervision:

2018: Supervision of 11 students (5 groups) for the bachelor thesis.

2019: Supervision and examination of 7 students (1 individual and 3 groups) for the bachelor thesis.

2020: Co-supervisor of pregraduate research student for one year (Master thesis)

2021: Supervisor of two master theses (one pregraduate)

2022: Supervisor of three master theses

Examinations:

2018: Examiner of 29 exam assignments on B03 (Developmental Psychology) in F18 incl. grading with external censor (29 hours).

2018: Oral examination of 11 students on the bachelor thesis with external censor.

2019: Examiner of 15 group exam assignments from 45 students on B07 (Clinical Psychology) in F19 incl. grading with external censor and group-feedback (15x15 minutes). Individual grading for each group member (41.25 hours).

2019: Oral examination of 6 students on the bachelor thesis with external censor.

2019: Examination of 1 student on the bachelor thesis without oral defense.

2020: Examiner of 10 group exam assignments from 30 students on B07 (Clinical Psychology) in F20 incl. grading with external censor and group-feedback (10x15 minutes). Individual grading for each group member (27.5 hours).

2021: Examiner of 10 group exam assignments from 30 students on B07 (Clinical Psychology) in F21 incl. grading with external censor and group-feedback (10x15 minutes). Individual grading for each group member (27.5 hours).

Other teaching activities at SDU:

2018-2019: PhD-mentor for new PhD-students at the Department of Psychology.

2018-2020: Administrator of the Journal Club for PhD-students at the Department of Psychology.

Other planned teaching activities at the university in 2022:

2022: Examiner of 10 groups exam assignments from 30 students on B07 (Clinical Psychology) in F21 incl. grading with external censor and group-feedback (15x15 minutes; April 2022).

2022: Lecture on the identification of children with trauma symptomatology on K06 – Applied Psychology (3 hours, April 2022)

2022: MCMI – Quota 2 admission for new students (full day; June 2022).

Teaching activities outside of the university:

2019: Lecture in partner- and family related violence - The specialist education in Psychotraumatology for psychologists (1 hour).

2019: Workshop and PTSD and partner violence at a women's shelter (3 hours).

2020: Lecture on partner- and family related violence - The specialist education in Psychotraumatology for psychologists (1 hour).

2020: Workshop on trauma and substance abuse for the municipality of Copenhagen (2 full days)

2021: Workshop on partner violence for 30 midwives in Project STOP at OUH in the Region of Southern Denmark.

Teaching concerning the dynamics and consequences of violence, how to address and talk about violence, and how to provide online counselling with female victims (3 days).

2021: Lecture on partner- and family related violence - The specialist education in Psychotraumatology for psychologists (1 hour).

2021: Workshops on how to identify trauma in children. A national-wide teaching project for pediatric staff in Danish women's shelters across the five Danish regions (5 days).

4. Methods, materials, and tools

My teaching at SDU has included several different teaching methods, including:

-Teaching written assignments and feedback on both individual and group level

-Lecturing both in person and online

-Facilitating classroom discussion and group discussions

-Group work

-ItsLearning assignments

-Peer-feedback training

-Continuing supervision of research students as part of pre-graduate research year, as well as supervision of regular bachelor and master students

-Oral exam feedback on written exams in groups

I am further co-editor and -author (three chapters) of Danish textbook concerning victims of violence. The book is intended for educational use in different health professions. It is supported by Offerfonden and written in collaboration with the Danish National Center of Psychotraumatology at SDU.

5. Educational development and applied research into teaching at university

-Preparation for the development project as part of my Lecturer Training Program at SDU from 2022-2023.

-Continuing development of B11 - Psychotraumatology.