Methods, materials and tools

In my teaching, I do not use special teaching material other than PowerPoint presentations. During my teaching hours, I do ask questions to the students for testing their level of understanding but also for keeping their attention. I am involved in the evaluation of written as well as oral exams. I am open to discussions and willing to meet students if they need extra help or explanations. However, I expect them to tell me what precisely they do not understand. I do not accept general questions that clearly show that they have not been present during the lectures or have not studied the topic(s).

Educational development and educational research as well as educational awards

2006 Recipient of the teaching prize from the Faculty of Natural Science and Engineering, University of Southern Denmark.
