5) Poster board number is 073

6) Please note that the chemical structure, for new chemical entities, must be displayed on the poster.

Further guidelines can be found on www.ecco-org.eu

General information

We have the pleasure to inform you that, in addition to the above visibility at the conference, ENA 2014 will be producing an online poster portal that contains the full content of the posters presented at the meeting. We offer you the possibility of this additional highlight for your poster in this format, as well as the opportunity to have it printed and delivered to the meeting in Barcelona. There is no obligation to participate, but this offers an exceptional chance of raising the awareness, the quality and dissemination of important abstracts presented in poster format at ENA 2014 and to publish the poster online in the European Journal of Cancer Supplements.

Please note that publication in the journal is optional!

Posters received in advance will also be available for searching and viewing throughout the conference at a computer kiosk. For this reason we encourage you to submit your posters before the event so that they can be available for viewing on site.

ENA 2014 has appointed Elsevier to produce the online poster portal and they will be in contact with you at a later date with more details about the practicalities. Elsevier will also offer you the additional service to print the poster and have it shipped either to your own address, or pick up at the ENA 2014 site in Barcelona.

Abstracts Online

ECCO – the European CanCer Organisation intend to publish the selected abstracts for the 26th EORTC-NCI-AACR symposium online before the congress (abstracts online on 30 October 12.00 noon CET). By signing the attached consent form you agree to have your abstract(s) for general viewing online on the ECCO website (www.ecco-org.eu).

Important note !!!

If you do not reply before Wednesday 15 October 2014, your abstract(s) will be automatically published online.

Registration

Acceptance of your abstract does not provide free registration to the congress. Please register at your earliest convenience prior to the regular deadline of 15 October 2014 at http://www.ecco-org.eu/Events/EORTC_NCI_AACR_2014/Registration

Author Replacement

Please note that after the selection stage your abstract cannot be withdrawn. Should you be unable to attend the ENA 2014 symposium in Barcelona, please arrange for one of the co-authors of your abstract to mount the poster. Please notify the ENA 2014 secretariat (pat.vanhove@ecco-org.eu), of your replacement before 15 September 2014

Travel & Accommodation

Please note that it is imperative to arrange your travel and accommodation in Barcelona as soon as possible as flights and hotel rooms are being booked up for the ENA 2014 symposium. More information can be found at www.ecco-org.eu.
