

Casper Sylvest
Institut for Historie
Center for Koldkrigsstudier
E-mail: csy@sdu.dk
Telefon: 65502137

Current research interests

- Denmark in the nuclear age. Current project: Danish Civil Defence during the Cold War (DACIDE), grant from Independent Research Fund Denmark, 2018-2020
- The political and cultural history of the nuclear age (DK, UK, US)
- Technology and global politics, particularly in relation to nuclear weapons
- The environment and global politics since 1945
- The history and politics of visual imagery, including documentary film and global politics
- History of (international) political thought, modern political theory and International Relations theory, particularly liberalism and political realism
- British intellectual history 1850-1970, particularly international political thought and socialist and liberal political thought

Education

2000: BA: Department of Political Science, University of Copenhagen
2002: MPhil: Centre of International Studies, University of Cambridge
2003: MSc: Department of Political Science, University of Copenhagen
2006/2007: PhD: History Faculty, University of Cambridge

Academic Employment

2006: Temporary Lecturer, Dept. of Political Science, University of Southern Denmark,
2007: Assistant Professor, Dept. of Political Science, University of Southern Denmark,
2009: Associate Professor, Dept. of Political Science, University of Southern Denmark, [paternity leave June 2010 – October 2010]
2013: Associate Professor, Dept. of History, University of Southern Denmark